DANGER SIGNAL IN

Firm and Recent Rise Buying Takes on Gigantic Proportions, Followed by Selling Stampede.

> CHICAGO, Aug. 4.-Corn buying took such gigantic proportions today that the market became dangerous for holders. Merely the mention of a sprinkle of rain in Iowa brought on a selling stampede that raised corn prices 2 cents a bushel, more than wiping out all the gain previously made during the day. The close was nervous, at the same as Saturday night, to ic up. Latest trading left wheat at a net deciline of $\overline{a}$ to $\overline{a}$ of $\overline{a}$ uch gigantic proportions today that the er was responsible for the continued advance this morning.

Leaders who have watched operations declared tonight that a number of the largest holders had sold out on today's bulge. The fact that no hot wave is in sight led some of the more conservative owners to believe that the buying and advance had been too feverish, and heavy profit-taking was under way when news of the lowa showers turned a decline into a smash. Only the knowledge that two-thirds of the corn fields of the United States were reported as showing United States were reported as showing parable damage or as being over the ger line saved the market from a net for the day, wheat, as in corn, there was a collapse of prices after midday. The break in corn had much to do with causing general selling of wheat on the reaction, but depression also came from a huge increase in the visible supply total, 4,5% 600 bushels being added, as against 757 000 bushels a year ago.

4.596.000 bushels being added, as against T87,000 bushels a year ago.

Oats swayed with other grains. The lower finish was attributed in part to the fact that eastern buyers of cash oats appeared to have withdrawn from the market.

Unexpectedly heavy receipts of hogs here and elsewhere knocked the bottom out of the provision trade. Stop-loss orders were executed in plenty.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The national capital awakened today to find that during the thirty-one hours from midnight Saturday to 7 o'clock today it had been a "jagless" town.
